THE WITNESS

NORA ROBERTS

A brand-new novel—and a stunning new heroine—from the #1 New York Times-bestselling author.

Praise for Nora Roberts

“America’s favorite writer.” —The New Yorker

Daughter of a controlling mother, Elizabeth finally let loose one night, drinking at a nightclub and allowing a strange man’s seductive Russian accent lure her to a house on Lake Shore Drive. The events that followed changed her life forever.

Twelve years later, the woman known as Abigail Lowery lives on the outskirts of a small town in the Ozarks. A freelance programmer, she designs sophisticated security systems—and supplements her own security with a fierce dog and an assortment of firearms. She keeps to herself, saying little, revealing nothing.

But Abigail’s reserve only intrigues police chief Brooks Gleason. Her logical mind, her secretive nature, and her unromantic viewpoints leave him fascinated but frustrated. He suspects that Abigail needs protection from something—and that her elaborate defenses hide a story that must be revealed.

With a quirky, unforgettable heroine and a pulse-pounding plotline, Nora Roberts presents a riveting new read that cements her place as today’s most reliably entertaining thriller author—and will leave people hungering for more.

UNNATURAL ACTS

A Stone Barrington Novel

STUART WOODS

Stone Barrington returns to Manhattan in the latest novel in the New York Times-bestselling series.

Praise for Stuart Woods

“The Barrington novels continue to impress, with likable characters, fast pacing, and original storylines.” —BookPage

When a hedge-fund billionaire hires Stone Barrington and Holly Barker to track down his missing son, it seems like a fairly open-and-shut case for the private eye and the CIA agent.

But they never expected that a simple missing-persons case would lead to one of the most wanted men in the world, as they to come face-to-face with a dangerous international criminal from their past. . . .

CRYSTAL GARDENS

A Ladies of Lantern Street Novel

AMANDA QUICK

In the latest novel from the New York Times-bestselling author, the lives of the Victorian gentry are filled with secrets—and secret powers. . . .

Praise for Amanda Quick

“Amanda Quick . . . deftly distills intrigue, romance, and a dash of the paranormal.”
—Chicago Tribune

Evangeline Ames has rented a country cottage far from the London streets where she was recently attacked. Fascinated by the paranormal energy of nearby Crystal Gardens, she finds pleasure in sneaking past the wall to explore the grounds. And when her life is threatened again, she instinctively goes to the gardens for safety.

Lucas Sebastian has never been one to ignore a lady in danger, even if she is trespassing on his property. Quickly disposing of her would-be assassin, he insists they keep the matter private. There are rumors enough already, about treasure buried under his garden, and occult botanical experiments performed by his uncle—who died of mysterious causes.

With Evangeline’s skill for detection, and Lucas’s sense of the criminal mind, they soon discover that they have a common enemy. And as the energy emanating from Crystal Gardens intensifies, they realize that to survive they must unearth what has been buried for too long.

PRAGUE FATALE

A Bernie Gunther Novel

PHILIP KERR

A country estate outside Prague. A beautiful autumn weekend. And the house party from hell.
Welcome to Prague Fatale.

Praise for Philip Kerr

“Just as youth is wasted on the young, history is wasted on historians. It ought to be the exclusive property of novelists—but only if they are as clever and knowledgeable as Philip Kerr.”
—Chicago Tribune

“The Bernie Gunther novels are first-class, as stylish as Chandler and as emotionally resonant as the best of Ross Macdonald.”
—George Pelecanos, New York Times— bestselling author and writer for The Wire

Bernie on the new Germany: I looked around the room and tried to picture which of the general's guests might actually try to poison him and found that in the new Germany it wasn't so hard. In a room full of murderers, anything seemed possible.

September 1941: Reinhard Heydrich is hosting a gathering to celebrate his appointment as Reichsprotektor of Czechoslovakia. He has chosen his guests with care. All are high-ranking Party members and each is a suspect in a crime as yet to be committed: the murder of Heydrich himself.

Indeed, a murder does occur, but the victim is a young adjutant on Heydrich's staff, found dead in his room, the door and windows bolted from the inside. Expecting foul play, Heydrich had already ordered Bernie Gunther to Prague. After more than a decade in Berlin's Kripo, Bernie had jumped ship as the Nazis came to power, setting himself up as a private detective. But Heydrich, who managed to subsume Kripo into his own SS operations, has forced him back to police work—which means, Bernie is also in the SS. Now, searching for the killer, Bernie must pick through the lives of some of the Reich's most odious officials.

A perfect locked-room mystery. But because Philip Kerr is a master of the sleight of hand, Prague Fatale is also a tense political thriller: a complex tale of spies, partisan terrorists, vicious infighting, and a turncoat traitor situated in the upper reaches of the Third Reich.

© Lindsey Parnaby

PHILIP KERR is the author of seven previous Bernie Gunther novels. The most recent, Field Gray, was a New York Times bestseller. Kerr, who is often compared to John le Carré and Raymond Chandler, lives in London. As P. B. Kerr, he is also the author of the young adult series Children of the Lamp.

WHAT TEACHERS MAKE

In Praise of the Greatest Job in the World

TAYLOR MALI

The right book at the right time: an impassioned defense of teachers and why our society needs them now more than ever.

Former middle-school teacher and teachers' advocate Taylor Mali struck a chord with his passionate response to a man at a dinner party who asked him what kind of salary teachers make—a poetic rant that has been seen and forwarded millions of times on Facebook, YouTube, and Twitter.

Based on the poem that inspired a movement, What Teachers Make is Mali's sharp, funny, reflective, critical call to arms about the joys of teaching and why teachers are so vital to America today. It's a book that will be treasured and shared by every teacher in America—and everyone who's ever loved or learned from one.

NAPLES DECLARED

A Walk Around the Bay

BENJAMIN TAYLOR

A modest and witty Virgil guides us through the purgatorial realms that are Naples: a city of vast contrasts, much squalor, gritty courage, and astonishing natural and man-made beauty.

Prometheus as a metaphor for Naples: A city where so much has been felt and thought and made, so much contributed to the sum of glorious and curious human things. But a city that has suffered so, and whose disproportionate agony is ongoing. Heroic in unequal combat, battered, degraded, ruined. Yet titanic.

It is a city of seemingly irreconcilable opposites, simultaneously glorious and ghastly. And it is Benjamin Taylor's remarkable ability to meld these contradictions into a whole that makes this the exciting and original book it is.

Taylor, the editor of Saul Bellow: Letters, called "an elegantissimo book" by The New York Times Book Review and named by Michiko Kakutani a best book of 2010, takes his stroll around the bay with the acute sensitivity of a lover, the good humor of a friend, and the wisdom of a seeker who has immersed himself in all aspects of this contrapuntal culture. His curiosity leads him to many byways, both real and metaphoric, and his passion for this ancient city and its people becomes, in his graceful prose and amusing anecdotes, irresistibly contagious.

STOLEN PREY

JOHN SANDFORD

Be careful what you wish for. . . .
The brilliant new Lucas Davenport thriller from the
#1 New York Times-bestselling author and Pulitzer Prize winner.

Praise for BURIED PREY

“If you haven’t read Sandford, you have been missing one of the great summer-read novelists of all time.”

—Stephen King, Entertainment Weekly

Lucas Davenport has seen many terrible murder scenes. This is one of the worst. In the small Minnesota town of Deephaven, an entire family has been killed—husband, wife, two daughters, dogs.

There’s something about the scene that pokes at Lucas’s cop instincts—it looks an awful lot like the kind of scorched-earth retribution he’s seen in drug killings sometimes. But this is a seriously upscale town, and the husband was an executive vice president at a big bank. It just doesn’t seem to fit.

Until it does. And where it leads Lucas will take him into the darkest nightmare of his life.

ROBERT B. PARKER'S LULLABY

A Spenser Novel

ACE ATKINS

Boston P.I. Spenser lives on—in the stunning new entry in the New York Times-bestselling series from critically acclaimed, award-winning novelist Ace Atkins.

Praise for the Spenser novels

“Is there a more promising opening in contemporary crime fiction than Boston P.I. Spenser opening his office door to a new client? Instantly we get Spenser’s clear-eyed view of the client, what his or her dress and stature have to say, and the rat-a-tat-tat of Spenser’s wise-guy answers to the client’s queries . . . a series of unflagging excellence. . . .”
—Booklist (starred review)

When fourteen-year-old Mattie Sullivan asks Spenser to look into her mother’s death, he’s not completely convinced by her claim that the original investigation was botched. Mattie is gruff, street-smart, and wise beyond her years, left to care for her younger siblings and an alcoholic grandmother in a dilapidated apartment in South Boston after her mother’s murder four years earlier. But her need for closure and her determination to make things right hit Spenser where he lives: they’re the very characteristics he abides by.

Convinced that the man convicted of the crime is innocent, Mattie points Spenser to two Dorchester toughs who were overlooked in the first investigation. Neither the Boston PD nor hardened residents of Southie’s housing projects are keen on his dredging up the past, but as Spenser becomes more involved in the case, he starts to realize that Mattie may be on to something—something that could get a whole lot more dangerous if he is able to see it through to the end.

ROBERT B. PARKER was the author of more than fifty books. He died in January 2010.

ACE ATKINS is the author of White Shadow, Wicked City, Devil’s Garden, Infamous, and four Nick Travers novels, as well as the Quinn Colson series, which includes The Ranger and The Lost Ones. He lives on a farm outside Oxford, Mississippi.

THE STORM

A Novel from the NUMA[®] Files

CLIVE CUSSLER

AND GRAHAM BROWN

The extraordinary new novel in the
#1 New York Times-bestselling series.

Praise for the NUMA® Files

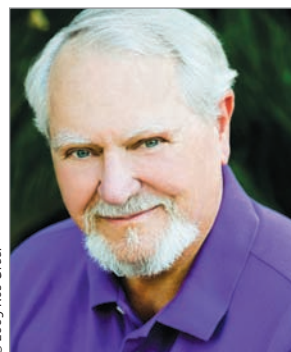

“An excellent series. Kidnappings, hair’s-breadth escapes, fierce battles, strange science, beautiful women and plenty of action add up to vintage Cussler.”

—Publishers Weekly

In the middle of the Indian Ocean, a NUMA research vessel is taking water samples at sunset, when a crew member spots a sheen of black oil ahead of them. But it is not oil. Like a horde of army ants, a swarm of black particles suddenly attacks the ship, killing everyone aboard, while the ship itself goes up in flames.

A few hours later, Kurt Austin and Joe Zavala are on their way to the Indian Ocean. What they will find there on the smoldering hulk of the ship will eventually lead them to the discovery of the most audacious scheme they have ever known: a plan to permanently alter the weather on a global scale. It will kill millions . . . and it has already begun.

Filled with the boundless invention unique to Clive Cussler, this is one of the most thrilling novels yet from the grand master of adventure.

THE RISK AGENT

RIDLEY PEARSON

A breakout new novel from New York Times-bestselling author Ridley Pearson—the first book in an electrifying new international thriller series.

Praise for Ridley Pearson

“Pearson shows his talent for thrills. . . . Entertaining!”

—Booklist

“Ridley Pearson writes thrillers, the kind that yank you to the edge of your seat and keep you there.”

—The Boston Sunday Globe

A Chinese National working for an American-owned construction company is grabbed off the streets of Shanghai in broad daylight. His one-man security detail goes missing as well.

Rutherford Risk is a firm specializing in extraction: the negotiation for, and the recovery of, hostages. Private investigation is illegal in today’s China. Operating within her borders will be difficult at best.

The security company recruits two unique outsiders to do their bidding. Grace Chu is a forensic accountant hired to follow the money; John Knox is a civilian with unparalleled training in both combat and culture. Grace’s top-notch American education and Chinese military service make her an unassuming, but effective, operative, while Knox’s take-no-prisoners attitude brings them perilously close to harm. Following the money leads to more complex—and dangerous—consequences than either anticipated. Who is behind the kidnapping? And more important, can Knox and Grace locate the hostages ahead of the deadline?

Rich with the atmosphere of Shanghai and crackling with tension-filled suspense, Pearson’s latest introduces two compelling new characters—and heralds in the start of a brilliant new series.

THE YARD

A Novel

ALEX GRECIAN

1889, London.
Jack the Ripper's reign of terror is finally over—but a new one is just beginning. . . .

Excerpt from THE YARD

Nobody noticed when Inspector Christian Little of Scotland Yard disappeared, and nobody was looking for him when he was found.

A black steamer trunk appeared at Euston Square Station sometime during the night and remained unnoticed until early afternoon of the following day. The porter discovered it after the one o'clock train had departed, and he opened the trunk when it proved too heavy for him to lift.

He immediately sent a boy to find the police.

Victorian London is a cesspool of crime, and Scotland Yard has only twelve detectives—known as “The Murder Squad”—to investigate thousands of murders every month. Created after the Metropolitan Police’s spectacular failure to capture Jack the Ripper, The Murder Squad suffers rampant public contempt. They have failed their citizens. But no one can anticipate the brutal murder of one of their own . . . one of the twelve . . .

When Walter Day, the squad’s newest hire, is assigned the case of the murdered detective, he finds a strange ally in the Yard’s first forensic pathologist, Dr. Bernard Kingsley. Together they track the killer, who clearly is not finished with The Murder Squad . . . but why?

Filled with fascinating period detail, and real historical figures, this spectacular debut in a new series showcases the depravity of late Victorian London, the advent of criminology, and introduces a stunning new cast of characters sure to appeal to fans of The Sherlockian and The Alienist.

THE LOST ONES

A Quinn Colson Novel

ACE ATKINS

The extraordinary second novel in the “harrowing, memorable” (AP) new series about the real Deep South.

Praise for THE RANGER

“A joy ride into the heart of darkness.”

—The Washington Post

“A superior, action-packed tale. Lee Child’s Jack Reacher will find a kindred spirit in Quinn Colson.”

—South Florida Sun-Sentinel

Fresh from ten years as a U.S. Army Ranger, Quinn Colson finds his hands full as the newly elected sheriff of Tibbehah County, Mississippi. An old buddy running a local gun shop may be in over his head when stolen army rifles start showing up in the hands of a Mexican drug gang.

At the same time, an abused-child case leads Quinn and his tough-as-nails deputy, Lillie Virgil, deep into the heart of a boot-leg baby racket and a trail of darkness and death. And when the two cases collide, Quinn and his allies are forced to realize that, though they may be home from the war, they are now in the fight of their lives.

POTBOILER

JESSE KELLERMAN

From a remarkably assured and always surprising writer comes a hilarious spin on the modern blockbuster thriller.

Praise for The Executor

"An outstanding novel of psychological suspense . . . Few thriller writers today are as gifted as Kellerman." —Chicago Tribune

"Stunning." —The New York Times Book Review

"An extraordinarily complex and ambitious piece of work. . . . Buy it, read it, and then read it again." —Chicago Sun-Times

Arthur Pfefferkorn is a has-been, or perhaps a never-was: a middle-aged college professor with long-dead literary aspirations. When his oldest friend, bestselling thriller writer William de Vallée, is lost at sea, Pfefferkorn is torn between envy and grief, for de Vallée not only outshone him professionally, but married the woman he also loved.

Pfefferkorn's decision to reconnect with de Vallée's widow sets in motion a surreal chain of events, plunging him into a shadowy realm of double crosses and intrigue, a world where no one can be trusted—and nothing can be taken seriously.

THE WRONG MAN

DAVID ELLIS

An edge-of-your-set thriller from the Edgar Award winner and
James Patterson's new coauthor.

Praise for DAVID ELLIS

"Who does Ellis think he is—John Grisham? The answer to that has to be, Yes—with any luck. Ellis certainly writes as well as his Georgia colleague, and his plotting is even sharper."
—Chicago Tribune

The twenty-four-hour news cycle is abuzz when the police arrest homeless Iraq war veteran Mike Stoller for the murder of a young paralegal on her way home from night-school class. Stoller doesn't deny killing the woman, but his post-traumatic stress disorder is so bad that he has no real memory of that night.

Jason Kolarich agrees to take the case only weeks before trial, and realizes that, unlikely as it seems, his client is probably innocent. The murdered paralegal had been tracing a money trail leading to a conspiracy of terrorists who come from the last place you'd expect: corporate America. Her murder was no random crime, and the wrong man was charged—leaving Jason Kolarich racing to save Stoller while simultaneously preventing a terrorist's bomb from detonating in his city.

The extraordinary new suspense novel by “Riveting. Readers of any genre will gnaw their fingernails to the quick.”

—Publishers Weekly (starred review)

A catastrophic earthquake ravages Afghanistan, and American troops rush to deliver aid, among them Afghan Air Force adviser Lieutenant Colonel Michael Parson, and his interpreter, Sergeant Major Sophia Gold. The devastation facing them is like nothing they’ve ever seen, however—and it’s about to get worse.

A Taliban splinter group, Black Crescent, is conducting its own campaign—shooting medical workers, downing helicopters, slaughtering anyone who dares to accept aid. With the U.S. drawing down and coalition forces spread thin, it is up to Parson, Gold, and Parson’s Afghan aircrews to try to figure out how to strike back. But they’re short of supplies, men, experience, and information—and meanwhile the terrorists seem to be nowhere . . . and everywhere.

A Men at War Novel

W. E. B. GRIFFIN

AND WILLIAM E. BUTTERWORTH IV

W. E. B. Griffin's OSS heroes face two extraordinary challenges in the brand-new volume of the New York Times-bestselling series.

Praise for the Men at War series

“A master of the genre and a wonderful storyteller. Griffin’s Men at War series brims with action and adventure that his legion of fans will savor.”

—Charleston Post and Courier

Summer 1943. Two of the Allies’ most important plans for winning World War II are at grave risk—Operation Overlord’s invasion of France, and the Manhattan Project’s race to build the atomic bomb. A furious FDR turns to OSS spy chief Wild Bill Donovan—and Donovan turns to his top agent, Dick Canidy, and his team. They’ve certainly got their work cut out for them.

In the weeks to come, they must fight not only the enemy in the field—including figuring out how to sabotage Germany’s new “aerial torpedo” rockets—but also the enemy within: Someone is feeding Manhattan Project secrets to the Soviets. Moles are bad enough. But if the Soviets build their own atomic bomb . . . who knows where that might lead?

THE CARE AND HANDLING OF ROSES WITH THORNS

A Novel

MARGARET DILLOWAY

From the author of How to Be an American Housewife comes a novel of family and forgiveness.

Praise for THE CARE AND HANDLING OF ROSES WITH THORNS

“I was captivated from the very first page. This uplifting novel about family and forgiveness brought me to both laughter and tears. By the end of this honest, engaging journey, I had grown to love all of the characters and was left with a new appreciation of the fragility and beauty of our daily happiness.”

—Jean Kwok, New York Times-bestselling author of Girl in Translation

Thirty-six-year-old Gal Garner lives a regimented life. Her job teaching biology and her struggle with kidney disease keep her toggling between the high school, the hospital, and her home on a strict schedule.

Only at home, in her gardens, does Gal come alive. It's here Gal experiments with Hulthemia roses, painstakingly cross-pollinating various specimens in the hopes of creating a brand-new rose variation of spectacular beauty. But even her passion has a highly structured goal: Gal wants to win Queen of Show in a major competition and bring that rose to market.

Then one afternoon Gal's teenage niece Riley, the daughter of her estranged sister, arrives. Unannounced. And neither one of them will ever be the same.

Filled with gorgeous details of the art of rose breeding, The Care and Handling of Roses with Thorns is a testament to the redemptive power of love.

LET'S PRETEND THIS NEVER HAPPENED

(A Mostly True Memoir)

JENNY LAWSON

For fans of Tina Fey and David Sedaris—
Internet star Jenny Lawson, aka The Bloggess, makes her literary debut.

Praise for Jenny Lawson

“The Bloggess writes stuff that actually is laugh out loud, but you know that really you shouldn’t be laughing and probably you’ll go to hell for laughing, so maybe you shouldn’t read it. That would be safer and wiser.”
—Neil Gaiman

“Jenny Lawson is hilarious, snarky, witty, totally inappropriate, and ‘Like Mother Teresa, Only Better.’”
—Marie Claire magazine

“Jenny Lawson’s writing is nothing less than revolutionary . . . I say this without a hint of exaggeration: She may be one of the most progressive women’s voices of our time.”
—Karen Walrond,
author of The Beauty of Different

Jenny Lawson realized that the most mortifying moments of our lives—the ones we’d like to pretend never happened—are in fact the ones that define us.

In Let’s Pretend This Never Happened, Lawson takes readers on a hilarious journey recalling her redneck upbringing in rural Texas, her devastatingly awkward high school years, and her relationship with her long-suffering husband, Victor. Chapters include: “Stanley the Magical, Talking Squirrel”; “A Series of Angry Post-It Notes to My Husband”; “My Vagina Is Fine. Thanks for Asking”; “And Then I Snuck a Dead Cuban Alligator on an Airplane.” Pictures with captions (no one would believe these things without proof) accompany the text.

THE HYPNOTIST'S LOVE STORY

A Novel

LIANE MORIARTY

From the author of critically acclaimed What Alice Forgot comes a wonderfully fun, insightful novel about the crazy things we do for love.

Praise for WHAT ALICE FORGOT

“Funny and knowing . . . this agile novel is also a light-handed look at what we choose to remember, and fight to forget.”

—Sara Nelson, O, The Oprah Magazine

“Great beach read.” —Good Housekeeping

“Hilarious . . .” —Self magazine

“. . . a thought-provoking read.” —Ladies’ Home Journal

“Liane Moriarty has written a deep and wondrous novel.”
—Luanne Rice

Ellen O’Farrell is a bit unusual. She’s a hypnotherapist. She’s never met her father. And she can’t seem to keep a relationship going (okay, that’s more normal that we want to admit).

When Ellen meets Patrick, she’s hopeful nevertheless. But when he says he needs to tell her something, she fears the worst. However, when Patrick reveals that his ex-girlfriend is stalking him, Ellen thinks, Is that all? Actually, that’s kind of neat. She’s more intrigued than frightened. What makes a supposedly smart, professional woman behave this way? She’d love to meet her.

What she doesn’t know is that she already has.

JULIET IN AUGUST

A Novel

DIANNE WARREN

With writing reminiscent of Alice Munro, Carol Shields, Larry McMurtry, and Elizabeth Strout, Juliet in August uncovers the incredible drama beneath the inhabitants of a sleepy prairie town.

Praise for JULIET IN AUGUST

“That two people can share a house and not know they love one another; that a note in a pocket with a woman’s name on it can crack decades of trust—this is a novel about the isolation that we hold secret within ourselves; that makes us envy the true hearts of horses and dogs. This novel shivers with nervous life. It tiptoes the fine edge between joy and weeping.”

—Fred Stenson, author of Lightning

“This is powerful writing—gut-wrenching and inspiring. Its drama is quiet, but in the end you hardly know what hit you.”

—The Governor General’s Award jury

Juliet, Saskatchewan, is a blink-and-you-miss-it kind of town—a dusty oasis on the edge of the Little Snake sand hills. It’s easy to believe that nothing of consequence takes place there.

But the hills vibrate with life, and the town’s heart beats in the rich and overlapping stories of its people: the rancher afraid to accept responsibility for the land his adoptive parents left him; the bank manager grappling with a sudden understanding of his own inadequacy; a shy couple, well beyond middle age, struggling with the recognition of their feelings for each other. And somewhere, lost in the sand, a camel named Antoinette.

NEXT STOP

A Memoir of Family

GLEN FINLAND

Next Stop is the universal story of how children grow up and parents learn to let go—no matter how difficult it may be for both of them.

Praise for NEXT STOP

"This is not a romance, or even just a heart-warmer. It's a real love story, frank and particular. If you don't like it, you don't like love."
—Roy Blount, Jr.

"It is a manual on what makes us human . . . Illuminating, inspiring, and at times heartbreaking. Brilliant."
—Jack McDevitt, Nebula Award-winning author of Firebird

The summer David Finland was twenty-one, he and his mother rode the Washington, D.C., metro trains. Every day. The goal was that if David could learn the train lines, maybe David could get a job. And then maybe he could move out on his own. And then maybe his parents' marriage could get the jump-start it craved. Maybe.

Next Stop is a candid portrait of a differently-abled young man poised at the entry to adulthood. It recounts the complex relationship between a child with autism and his family, as he steps out into the real world alone for the first time, and how his autism affects everyone who loves him.

CAT DADDY

How One Very Special Cat Fixed One
Very Broken Man

JACKSON GALAXY

The star of Animal Planet's popular TV show My Cat from Hell shares the inspiring story of one petite gray-and-white cat who turned his life around—as well as his singular advice for living with, caring for, and loving your own special feline friend (or friends!).

© John Lemon

Praise for Jackson Galaxy and My Cat from Hell

“Galaxy might not seem like a typical ‘cat person’—but who better than a New Yorker inked with images of cats and his own set of whiskers to mediate between a fussy feline and its guardian?”

—New York Post

“If you have a cat from hell, Jackson Galaxy may be the guy who can get little Mittens to start acting normal.”

—AOL News

Jackson Galaxy, aka “Cat Daddy” and star of Animal Planet’s My Cat from Hell, isn’t what you might expect as far as “cat experts” are concerned (as The New York Times recently noted, he “looks like a Hells Angel”). Yet Galaxy’s ability to connect with even the most troubled feline—not to mention the stressed-out humans attempting to carve out some semblance of sanity in the wake of its wrath—is truly astonishing.

In this book, Galaxy shares the unlikely story of how he came to be known as “Cat Daddy,” focusing on his thirteen-year-long relationship with an incredible cat named Benny. When Benny arrived in his life, Galaxy was a down-and-out rock musician with a drug problem and a part-time job at an animal shelter. When Benny’s previous owner handed him to Galaxy in a cardboard carrier, Benny had seen better days—his pelvis had just been shattered by the wheels of a car—but the woman declared that he’d been “un-bondable” from day one. Nothing could have been further from the truth.

A poignant account of two broken beings who fixed each other, Cat Daddy is laced throughout with Galaxy’s amazing “Cat Whisperer” advice for understanding what cats need most from us humans in order to live happier and healthier lives.

JACKSON GALAXY, the star of Animal Planet’s My Cat from Hell, has been called everything from a cat trainer to a cat shrink. Drawing on his years of experience working in cat shelters and helping cat owners, Galaxy and his self-proclaimed “off-the-wall” methods offer people a deeper understanding of why their cats act the way they do. Jackson teaches classes to help deepen the human-feline bond and maintains a private feline consulting practice in Los Angeles.

INSPIRED & UNSTOPPABLE

Wildly Succeeding in Your Life's Work!

TAMA KIEVES

What if everything you thought you needed to do to succeed was actually standing in the way of your success?

“You are meant to succeed in the work you love. Your desire will take you all the way.”

—Tama Kieves

Tama Kieves, Harvard lawyer turned career coach, has spent the last decade crossing the United States and Canada, speaking to tens of thousands of people and sharing her inspiring story of moving from a career that was killing her to a life that has uplifted her, chronicled in her first book, This Time I Dance! Creating the Work You Love. She has mentored thousands of people who, with her help, have followed their passion and are living their dream lives.

And now she takes us to the next step in our journey.

Within you is your purpose—your destiny—which will lead you to your greatest fulfillment and success. Kieves discovered along her journey that the way to success is an inspired path, not a linear one. She brings her ideas and actions together in her latest work, revealing that it is only in unleashing this purpose that you can become truly happy and satisfied.

Through these new teachings, Kieves will help you move into your “brilliant power.” She shares the mental and emotional impact of this journey—the fears, doubts, and “choice points” that arise—and how to become an unstoppable warrior for your life’s work and desires. You will learn how to stay connected to your desires and shift your innermost thinking. When you do, you will naturally outpace anything any expert could ever tell you. You don’t need the steps when you have the moves . . .

Beautifully written, Inspired & Unstoppable includes success stories, as well as practices that will foster positive momentum, and “Inspired Successisms”—delightful, quick bites of wisdom peppered throughout. It also offers guidelines on how to create your own “Inspired Success Circle”—a way of moving forward with the support of friends and loved ones.

Practical, empowering, inspirational, galvanizing—Inspired & Unstoppable is the touchstone to (finally) living your wildest dreams and greatest desires.

AROUND THE WRITER'S BLOCK

Using Brain Science to Solve
Writer's Resistance*

*Including Writer's Block, Procrastination, Paralysis, Perfectionism, Postponing, Distractions, Self-Sabotage, Excessive Criticism, Overscheduling, and Endlessly Delaying Your Writing

ROSANNE BANE

Using recent breakthroughs in neuroscience, this guide creates an easy-to-follow program to end writer's block and other self-defeating behaviors.

Do you want to write, but find yourself unable to get started? Edit your first page over and over, and feel unable to move on? Keep your schedule so full that you don't have time to write?

You're not alone. Many writers are plagued by "writer's resistance," a group of behaviors that prevent us from being able to get words down on the page. Writer's resistance can make us feel adrift, hopeless, discouraged, and ready to give up.

The good news is that you can beat writer's resistance. You just need to learn what's going on inside your brain—and harness that knowledge to develop a productive writing habit.

A writing and creativity teacher for more than twenty years, Rosanne Bane has given thousands of writers the tools to bust through self-defeating writing behaviors. In Around the Writer's Block, Bane helps us understand where writer's resistance comes from: the "fight-or-flight" responses hardwired into our brains, which can make us desperate to flee the source of our anxiety (writing) by any means possible. Using the most recent breakthroughs in neuroscience and a three-part plan that helps readers develop new regular writing habits, Bane coaches us on how to rewire our brain's responses to the anxiety produced by writing—turning writing from a source of stress and anxiety into a source of joy and personal growth.

Writer's resistance doesn't have to be permanent. Let the power of habit rewire your brain, and become the writer you've always wanted to be.

For twenty years, ROSANNE BANE has worked as a writing and creativity teacher, teaching at Minneapolis's The Loft Literary Center, the country's largest center for writing. She lives in Minneapolis.

THE NOT-SO-NUDE RIDE OF LADY GODIVA

& Other Morsels of Misinformation from the History Books

DAVID HAVILAND

The bestselling coauthor of Why Dogs Eat Poop & Other Useless or Gross Information About the Animal Kingdom exposes history's greatest tall tales, half-truths, and legends.

It is said that history is written by the winners. However, “winners” don’t always make the best historians. Enter David Haviland—historian, journalist, and writer—to set the record straight. In his quirky, inimitable style, Haviland separates fact from fiction regarding some of history’s most well-known people and events, such as:

- ▶ Lady Godiva—By far, history’s most famous nudist equestrian. But how nude was she, really? And how did this same legend give rise to the term “Peeping Tom”?
- ▶ The Boston Tea Party—What was the cause of this famous “party” that wasn’t really a party? (Hint: If you guessed a rise in taxes, you’re dead wrong!)
- ▶ World War I—Did a directionally challenged chauffeur spark the war to end all wars?
- ▶ The World’s Best Golf Score—This record-breaking, 18-hole round of golf was completed by North Korea’s Supreme Leader, Kim Jong-il, in an unheard of thirty-four strokes! And it was his first time ever playing the game! (Equally amazing is the fact that this, among other bits of extreme propaganda, are perpetuated in his country.)

In this intriguing new book, Haviland illuminates the murkiest corners from every era of history—from the Trojan Horse (not very “Trojan” at all, as it was built by and filled with Greeks!) to Queen Victoria (who perhaps wasn’t such a prude, considering her nude modeling career). The result is a wholly fascinating, highly educational compendium of historic strangeness that will enlighten and entertain readers both young and old.

DAVID HAVILAND is a journalist, writer, and historian who has long had a love of quirky trivia and anecdotes. Coauthor of Why Dogs Eat Poop & Other Useless or Gross Information About the Animal Kingdom and author of Why You Should Store Your Farts in a Jar & Other Oddball or Gross Maladies, Afflictions, Remedies, and “Cures,” he lives in London.

REAL WOLFMEN

True Encounters in Modern America

LINDA S. GODFREY

What's hiding in the woods? Here is the definitive account of today's nationwide sightings of upright, canine creatures—which resemble traditional werewolves—and a thorough exploration of the nature and possible origins of the mysterious beast.

"She has the ability to send chills up and down your spine." —Brad Steiger, author of *Real Ghosts, Restless Spirits, and Haunted Places

"If you thought the likes of The Wolfman, The Twilight Saga: Eclipse, and Underworld had no basis in fact, it's time to think again!" —Nick Redfern, author of *There's Something in the Woods

The United States has been invaded—if many dozens of eyewitnesses are to be believed—by upright, canine creatures that look like traditional werewolves and act as if they own our woods, fields, and highways. Sightings from coast-to-coast dating back to the 1930s compel us to ask exactly what these beasts are, and what they want.

Researcher, author, and newspaper reporter Linda S. Godfrey has been tracking the manwolf since the early 1990s. In Real Wolfmen she presents the only large-scale cataloguing and investigation of reports of modern sightings of anomalous, upright canids. Godfrey explores the most compelling cases from the modern history of such sightings, along with the latest reports, and undertakes a thorough exploration of the nature and possible origins of the creature.

LINDA S. GODFREY

is America's foremost authority on modern-day werewolves. She is the author of over a dozen books on werewolves, hauntings, and the paranormal, including the popular Weird Michigan. Godfrey has appeared on many national TV shows such as The History Channel's Monster Quest, Inside Edition, and Sean Hannity, and has been a guest on radio shows such as Coast to Coast AM, as well as on Wisconsin and Michigan Public Radio.

MAIN STREET VEGAN

Everything You Need to Know to Eat Healthfully and Live Compassionately in the Real World

VICTORIA MORAN, HHC, AADA

Hollywood celebrities are doing it. Corporate moguls are doing it. Even one glowing ex-president is living testimony to the extraordinary health benefits of the vegan lifestyle. But what about those of us living in the real world—and on a real budget?

Author and holistic health practitioner Victoria Moran started eating only plants in her hometown of Kansas City nearly thirty years ago, lost sixty pounds, and raised her daughter, Adair, vegan from birth. In Main Street Vegan, Moran offers a complete guide to making this major lifestyle shift, with an emphasis on practical “baby steps” (you don’t have to throw out your leather shoes, animal-tested soap, and meat and dairy products all in one day!). Not just for foodies or “health nuts,” this book provides practical advice and simple, savory recipes for everyone—from Main Street to Wall Street, and everywhere in between. Main Street Vegan outlines a path to becoming vegan in just forty small steps, including:

- ▶ Decide That You Can Do This
- ▶ Retire from Dieting
- ▶ Propel Yourself with Plant Protein
- ▶ Know the Beings Behind Bacon and Burgers

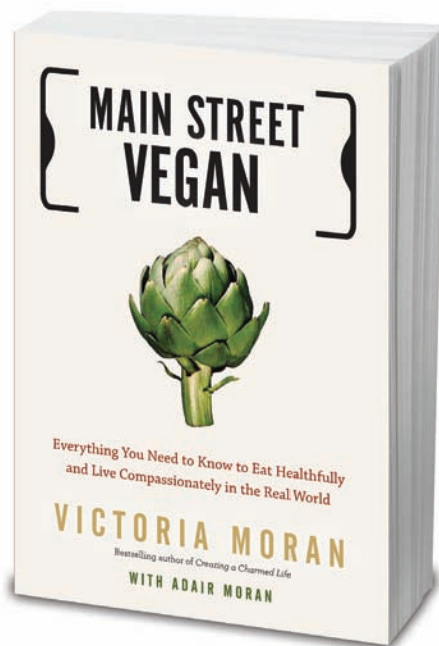

The steps presented in this book can be taken in almost any order and performed at your own pace. With Main Street Vegan the possibilities are endless—find out what works for YOU!

VICTORIA MORAN, HHC, AADA, is a certified holistic health counselor, a motivational speaker, and the author of ten previous books, including the international bestseller Creating a Charmed Life. Moran has appeared on Oprah, writes for magazines, including VegNews and Natural Health, blogs for the Huffington Post, and is the director of Main Street Vegan Lifestyle

Coaching, training would-be vegans and vegan coaches. Victoria was assisted in the writing of this book by Adair, who, as an actress and stunt performer, is living proof that a vegan diet provides all the necessary nutrients for a strong, fit body and an active lifestyle. Victoria and her husband live in a “green” condo in New York City.

IT'S OKAY NOT TO SHARE

and Other Renegade Rules for Raising
Competent and Compassionate Kids

HEATHER SHUMAKER

Remember The Rules for dating and relationships? Well, here are “the rules” for parents. Hint: They aren’t what you think they are!

On the one hand, you want your child to learn how to negotiate the world on his or her own terms—on the other hand, it's pretty embarrassing when your kid doesn't want to be nice and hand over his toys quite yet. . . .

Parenting can be such an overwhelming job that it's easy to lose track of your parenting philosophy—let alone where you stand on some of the more controversial subjects at the playground. What if my kid likes to roughhouse— isn't this OK as long as no one gets hurt? And what if my kid just doesn't feel like sharing? In this inspiring and enlightening book, mother Heather Shumaker describes her quest to nail down "the rules" to raising smart, sensitive, and self-sufficient kids. Drawing on her experiences as the mother of two small children, as well as on her extensive (and, yes, at times obsessive!) reading into what the "experts"—child psychologists, pediatricians, etc.—have to say, in this book Shumaker gets down to the heart of the matter on some of the most controversial aspects of parenting young children. The renegade rules in this book include:

- ▶ It's OK if it's not hurting people or property.
- ▶ Kids need conflict.
- ▶ All feelings are OK. All behavior isn't.
- ▶ Bombs and bad guys allowed.
- ▶ Boys can wear tutus.
- ▶ Go ahead—paint off the paper!
- ▶ Sex Ed starts in preschool.
- ▶ Inconsistent parenting works!

Sometimes raising your kid the way you want to isn't easy. The rules in this book will help parents give their children the freedom and space they need to grow into happy, healthy, and contented adults—despite what the other moms at the playground may think!

SWEDENBORG

An Introduction to His Life and Ideas

GARY LACHMAN

A clear and concise overview of the life and work of the immensely influential but little understood eighteenth-century mystic-scientist Emanuel Swedenborg.

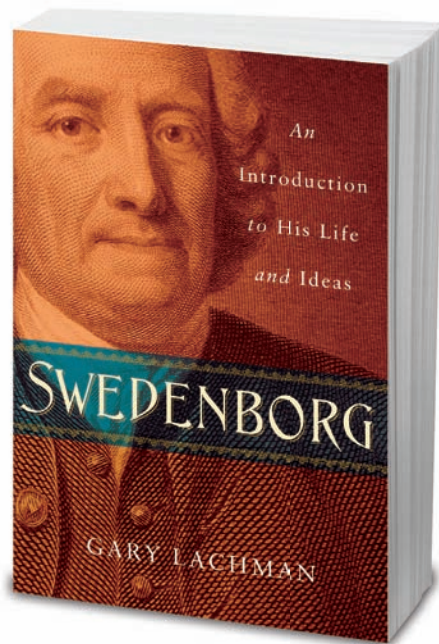

“Lachman identifies all the roles Swedenborg inhabited (spiritual thinker, psychic, scientist, inventor, statesman, traveler, and possibly even spy) and does an exceptionally good job of suggesting why this little-known polymath deserves more substantial critical attention.” —The Independent on Sunday (UK)

It is difficult to imagine modern Western alternative spirituality without the influence of Swedish scientist and mystic Emanuel Swedenborg (1688–1772). Every movement in alternative spirituality—from mental healing and Spiritualism to New Age mysticism and the twelve-step recovery movement—owes an immeasurable debt to the ideas he exploded upon the Western world.

Yet Swedenborg’s work can be challenging for modern readers. His influence, everywhere at once, is difficult to get a handle on. Now, Gary Lachman provides an accessible, lively, and masterful introduction to the life and ideas of this spiritual giant. Lachman takes us to Swedenborg’s roots as a brilliant rationalist and scientist who, well into midlife, began to experience visions of other realms. From this point, Swedenborg produced an extraordinary body of writings based on his out-of-body experiences, in which he related encounters with angels, other-planetary beings, and “the world of spirits.”

As Lachman explores, Swedenborg’s work opened up a radically liberal and refreshing idea of religion. He saw humanity, and all of nature, as phenomena emerging from the “spiritual world,” and man as a vessel for divine influences. This vision inspired Western seekers to see man as a product of spiritual phenomena, and thus a being intimately connected with the cosmos. From this perspective grew bold new ideas about channeling, spiritual healing, mystical experience, mediumship—a litany of concepts that prefigured the revolutions in alternative and therapeutic spirituality.

GARY LACHMAN is one of today’s most widely read and respected writers on esoteric and occult themes. His books include Jung the Mystic; Rudolf Steiner; Politics and the Occult; Turn Off Your Mind; and A Secret History of Consciousness. In his musical career, Lachman has been inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame as a founding member of Blondie. He was born in New Jersey and currently lives in London.

TRANSCENDENCE

Healing and Transformation Through Transcendental Meditation

NORMAN E. ROSENTHAL, M.D.

FOREWORD BY MEHMET C. OZ, M.D.

The bestselling guide to the scientifically proven health and stress-relieving benefits of Transcendental Meditation.

Praise for TRANSCENDENCE

“Dr. Norman Rosenthal’s book will propel TM into the mainstream where it belongs.”
—Russell Simmons

“The best-ever book on Transcendental Meditation.” —David Lynch

“Whether your troubles are deep or you simply know life could be better and healthier, read this book.” —Candy Crowley, CNN anchor

Norman E. Rosenthal, M.D., a longtime researcher at the National Institute of Mental Health and the celebrated psychiatrist and psychiatric researcher who pioneered the study and treatment of seasonal affective disorder (SAD), brings us this generation’s most important work on Transcendental Meditation—and one of today’s most significant books on achieving greater physical and mental health and wellness.

Transcendence demystifies the practice and benefits of Transcendental Meditation for a general audience who may have heard about the method but do not necessarily know what it is, how it is practiced, or what they stand to gain from it, physically and emotionally. Dr. Rosenthal clearly and practically explains the basic ideas behind Transcendental Meditation: It is a non-religious practice that involves sitting comfortably for twenty minutes twice a day, while using a silent mantra, or nonverbal sound, to attain a profound state of aware relaxation.

Dr. Rosenthal draws upon experience from the lives of his patients and a wealth of clinical research amassed on TM over the past generation (340 peer-reviewed published articles) to provide the fullest and most accessible book ever on the broad range of benefits of this remarkably simple practice, from relief of anxiety, stress, and depression to new hope for those suffering from addiction, attention-deficit disorder, or post-traumatic stress disorder.

Alongside exclusive celebrity interviews—where stars such as Paul McCartney, Ringo Starr, Martin Scorsese, Russell Brand, Laura Dern, Moby, and David Lynch openly discuss their meditation—Transcendence features stories from everyday people, from veterans to students coping with anxiety disorders, discussing how TM has helped them achieve more fulfilling lives.

THE OPTIMIST CREED

Contemporary research has shown that optimistic people experience longer and healthier lives, better relationships, and higher incomes. Generations before such findings, however, inspirational writer Christian D. Larson showed an amazing grasp of the life-changing power of gratitude and optimism. Today, Larson is known worldwide for his powerful meditation “The Optimist Creed” and for his other classics of spiritual living—but no single volume has collected his greatest writings. Here, at last, is a long-overdue anthology that makes his foundational writings available to the countless readers who already know his name and work.

In his now famous maxim, Larson encouraged early twentieth-century readers to embrace an “attitude of gratitude.” Yet Larson’s vision went far beyond mushy or feel-good nostrums. Like no one else of his day, the groundbreaking writer understood the metaphysical and psychological dimensions of grateful living. Affirmative thought, Larson reasoned, sets in motion unseen forces, both spiritual and psychical, and aids in manifesting our desires.

In our time, Larson’s message is as fresh and radical as ever. The Optimist Creed features complete editions of his most deeply affecting works, each redesigned and reset. It contains: “The Pathway of Roses,” “Your Forces and How to Use Them” (the 1912 work that features his “Optimist Creed”), “Mastery of Self,” “The Ideal Made Real,” and “Just Be Glad.”

CHRISTIAN D. LARSON (1874–1962) was born in Iowa to Norwegian immigrants. He was headed for a career in the Lutheran ministry but later embraced a more universal and independent spirituality. In 1901, at age twenty-seven, Larson launched one of the first journals devoted to positive thinking. He moved to California and grew into a popular New Thought and inspirational writer and speaker, producing more than forty books. Larson’s most enduring work is the meditation called “The Optimist Creed,” which he originally published in 1912 as “Promise Yourself.” In 1922, it was officially adopted as the manifesto of Optimist International and today is quoted around the world.

TRAVELS WITH MYSELF AND ANOTHER

A Memoir

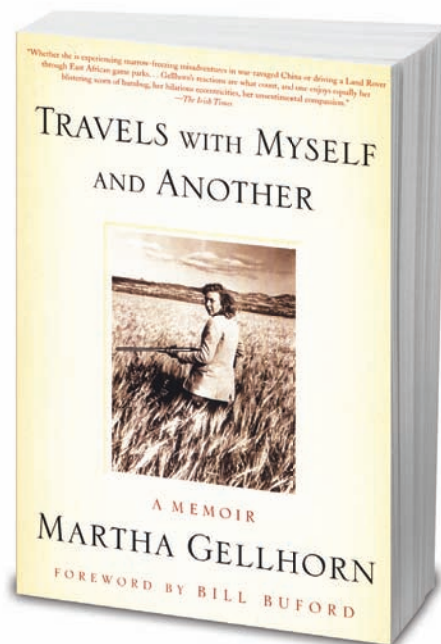

MARTHA GELLHORN

The life that inspired the HBO movie Hemingway & Gellhorn, premiering in spring 2012.

“Gellhorn is incapable of writing a dull sentence.”
—The Times (London)

“Gellhorn has a novelist’s eye, a flair for black comedy, and a short fuse. There is not a boring word in her humane and often funny book.”
—The New York Times

“Martha Gellhorn—a woman before her time—left behind a gem of a travelogue, sewn with the requisite nightmares and epiphanies, but imparted with a wink, as if to a friend.”
—Deborah Copaken Kogan, author of *Shutterbabe

Martha Gellhorn was one of her generation’s greatest journalists, a prizewinning war correspondent, a world-class traveler, and the wife of Ernest Hemingway for five tempestuous years. Her memoir, Travels with Myself and Another (originally published in 1978), shines light on Gellhorn’s time covering the Sino-Japanese War and other international conflicts, her extensive travel in Asia, the USSR, Africa, and beyond, and her rocky marriage to Hemingway.

MARTHA GELLHORN was born in 1908 in St. Louis, Missouri. One of the most acclaimed war correspondents of her era, she died in 1998.
