Until the Sea Shall Give Up Her Dead

Sean Thomas Russell

Top-ten bestseller Sean Thomas Russell's captivating fourth maritime adventure featuring Charles Hayden

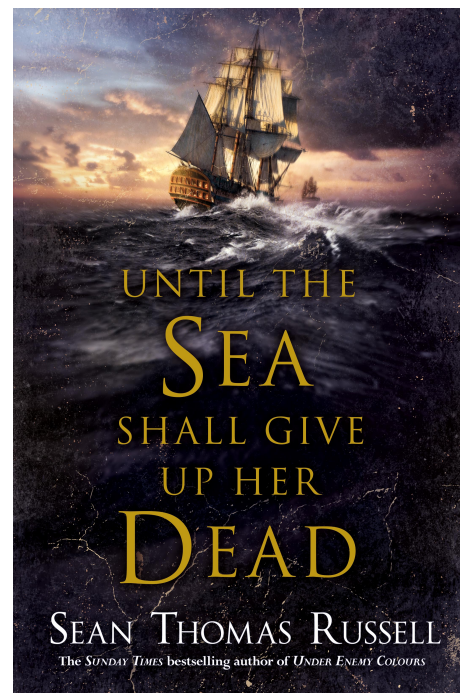

Crossing the Atlantic, Charles Hayden encounters a dismasted ship sailing under jury rig - it is a slaver headed for the British West Indies. Without Hayden's help many slaves will die of thirst and starvation, and reluctantly he agrees to help the ship in exchange for a percentage of their profits.

Reaching Barbados, Hayden finds his ship in a squadron under the command of the conceited Sir William Jones, who involves Hayden in his perilous exploits. Hayden must question whether he will risk his men and stand by Jones, or whether he will stand against him.

Sean Thomas Russell is a lifelong sailor whose passion for the sea - and his love of nautical history - inspired the adventures of Charles Hayden. His latest book follows bestsellers A Battle Won, Under Enemy Colours and A Ship of War. Sean lives on Vancouver Island.

Little Lies

Liane Moriarty

Top ten bestselling author Liane Moriarty returns with another gripping read

She could hear men and women shouting. Angry hollers crashed through the soft humid salty summer night. It was somehow hurtful for Mrs Ponder to hear, as if all that rage was directed at her . . . then she heard the wail of a siren in the distance, at the same time as a woman still inside the building began to scream and scream . . .

When a harmless quiz night ends with an act of shocking violence, the parents of Pirriwee Public School can't seem to stop their secrets from finally spilling out. Rumours ripple through the small town, as truth and lies blur to muddy the story of what really happened on that fateful night . . .

Liane Moriarty is the bestselling author of five novels: Three Wishes, The Last Anniversary, What Alice Forgot, The Hypnotist's Love Story and her most recent top ten bestseller The Husband's Secret. She lives in Sydney with her husband and two children.

'The writing is beautiful: sometimes funny, sometimes sad but always compelling' Good Housekeeping

'This is such a clever idea. This is powerful, moving and gripping stuff' Star Magazine on The Husband's Secret

'The Husband's Secret is a staggeringly brilliant novel. It is literally unputdownable' Sophie Hannah on The Husband's Secret

I Can't Begin to Tell You

Elizabeth Buchan

Would you lie to the man you love to protect someone who won't even tell you his name?

Denmark, 1940.

For British-born Kay Eberstern, safely enveloped in the comfort of her husband Bror's country estate, war is a distant reality - until the Nazis invade her adopted country.

With Bror determined to preserve the legacy of his family home, even if it means collaborating with the enemy, Kay is forced to decide where her loyalties truly lie. Drawn into a covert world of intelligence, resistance and sacrifice - and into a relationship with 'Felix', an enigmatic SOE agent - she learns that nothing is simple in wartime, and no one is above suspicion.

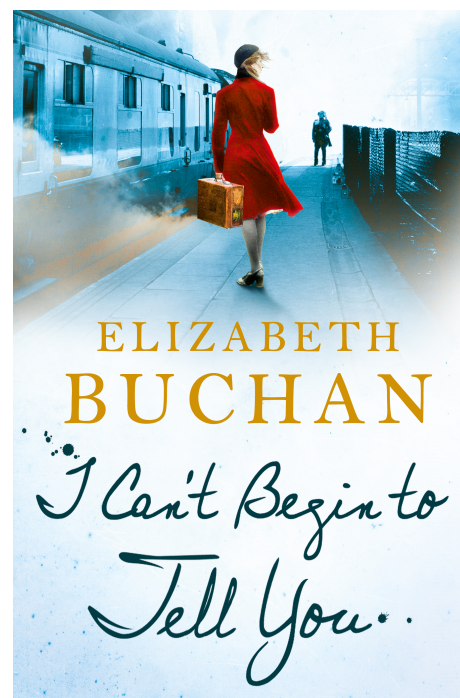

Even those you love most.

Elizabeth Buchan's novels include the prizewinning Light of the Moon and Consider the Lily, as well as the international bestseller Revenge of the Middle-Aged Woman. Her short stories have been broadcast on BBC Radio 4 and published in a range of magazines. She reviews for the Sunday Times, and has chaired the Betty Trask and Desmond Elliot literary prizes, and also been a judge for the Whitbread (now Costa) awards. She is a patron of the Guildford Book Festival and of The National Academy of Writing. She lives in London.

The Woman Who Stole My Life

Marian Keyes

The biggest-selling writer of popular women's fiction tells a stunning tale of losing the life you had and finding a better one

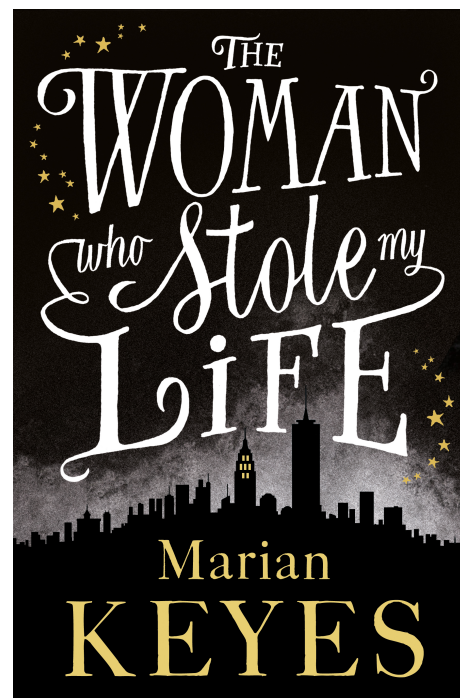

Stella Sweeny is back in Dublin. After living the dream in New York for a year - touring her self-help book, appearing on talk shows all over the USA and living it up in her 10-room duplex on the Upper West Side - she's back to normality with a bang. And she's got writer's block.

Stella wants a clean break as she didn't exactly leave New York on a high. Why is she back in Ireland so soon? Who is it who keeps calling? Stella wants to get back to being the woman she used to be. But can she? And should she?

Marian Keyes' international bestselling novels include Rachel's Holiday, Last Chance Saloon, Sushi for Beginners, Angels, The Other Side of the Story, Anybody Out There, This Charming Man, The Brightest Star in the Sky and The Mystery of Mercy Close. Two collections of her journalism, Under the Duvet and Further Under the Duvet, are also available from Penguin. Marian lives in Dublin with her husband.

Stephen Fry Memoir

Stephen Fry

National Treasure: noun - someone or something regarded as emblematic of a nation's cultural heritage, such as Stephen Fry (OED 2010)

Following on from his hugely successful first book, The Fry Chronicles, comes the second chapter in Stephen Fry's life.

Praise for The Fry Chronicles:

'Heartbreaking, a delight, a lovely, comfy book' The Times

'Very funny ... I hope to goodness there'll be a sequel. I can't wait for more' Daily Mail

'Perfect prose and excruciating honesty. A grand reminiscence of college and theatre and comedyland in the 1980s, with tone-perfect anecdotes and genuine readerly excitement. What Fry does, essentially, is tell us who he really is. Above all else, a thoughtful book. And namedroppy too, and funny, and marbled with melancholy' Observer

Stephen Fry is an award-winning comedian, actor, presenter and director. He rose to fame alongside Hugh Laurie in A Bit of Fry and Laurie (which he co-wrote with Laurie) and Jeeves and Wooster, and was unforgettable as General Melchett in Blackadder. He has presented Stephen Fry: The Secret Life of the Manic Depressive, his groundbreaking documentary on bipolar disorder, to huge critical acclaim. His legions of fans tune in to watch him host the popular quiz show QI each week.

'Arguably the greatest living Englishman' Independent on Sunday

'Fry's linguistic facility remains one of the Wildean wonders of the new media age. The patron saint of British intelligence' Daily Telegraph

Mrs. Brown's A to Y of Everything

Brendan O'Carroll

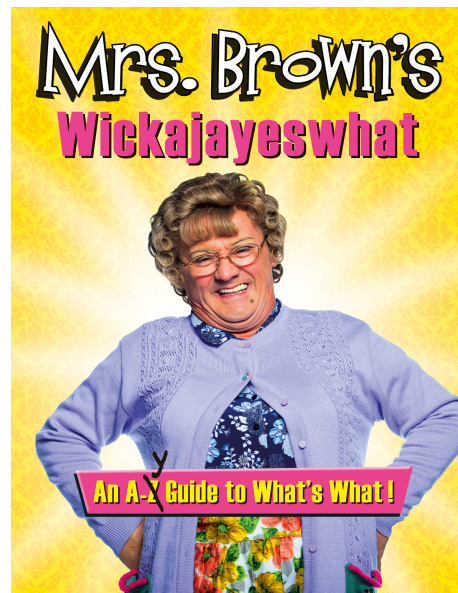

The hilarious new tie-in to the most popular comedy series on TV, Mrs Brown's Boys

If there's one Mammy in the world who knows what's what, it's Mrs Brown. Here, Agnes, star of the incredibly popular TV show Mrs Brown's Boys, and the forthcoming movie, follows up her bestselling Mrs Brown's Family Handbook with an A to Y (who really needs 'Z's anyway?) of modern life.

In it, Agnes explores everything from pandas to piles, from biscuits to The Big Bang and from happiness to hairdryers. Peppered with her inimitable humour and full of hilarious photos, the Wickajayesawhat is to your Christmas stocking what sausages are to a toad-in-the-hole.

Brendan O'Carroll is an Irish writer, producer, comedian, actor, director and author. He is best known for playing Agnes Brown in Mrs Brown's Boys, which won the best sitcom BAFTA in 2012. He has written four films and nine comedy shows, including The Course (1995) and The Last Wedding (1999). He has also published seven novels, including The Mammy, The Scrapper and The Young Wan - a number of which have been translated into 12 languages.

Dead Men's Bones

James Oswald

The fourth book in the phenomenally successful Inspector McLean series from James Oswald

The body of a prominent Scottish MP is discovered outside his home in North East Fife. Unbelievably, Andrew Weatherly has killed his wife and two daughters before turning the gun on himself.

What drives someone to commit such an atrocity?

Inspector Tony McLean finds himself leading the investigation. The deeper he digs, the more apparent it becomes that he is being used in a game between shadowy factions from the world of power and privilege.

Pressure is on to wrap up the case. But McLean won't easily let go, even if he must tread on very dangerous territory . . .

James Oswald is the author of the Detective Inspector McLean series of crime novels. The first three, Natural Causes, The Book of Souls and The Hangman's Song are also available as Penguin paperbacks and ebooks. His epic fantasy series, The Ballad of Sir Benfro, is also published by Penguin.

In his spare time he runs a 350-acre livestock farm in North East Fife, where he raises pedigree Highland Cattle and New Zealand Romney Sheep.

The Thinking Woman's Guide to Real Magic

Emily Croy Barker

Magic, romance and adventure for fans of A Discovery of Witches

When Nora Fischer stumbles, quite literally, into a magical world where everyone is glamorous and life is one long party, she's immediately captivated.

What she doesn't realize, because everything is such fun, is that there's a darker side to her new friends. In fact, it's only after she agrees to marry the charismatic, masterful Raclin that she discovers she's a prisoner in this new world.

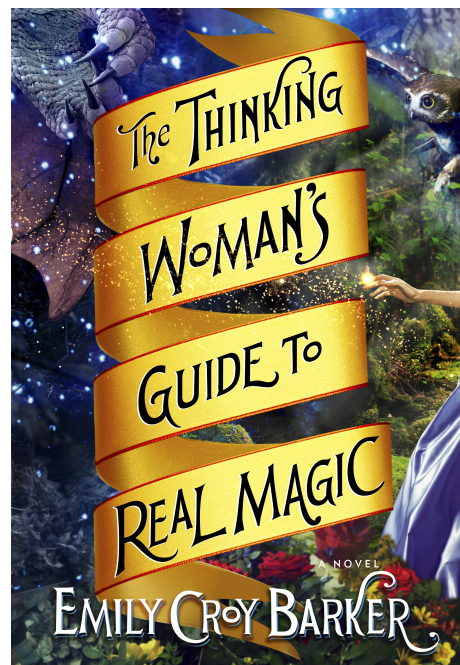

If Nora is to escape, then she has just one hope: the magician Aruendiel. And if she can also persuade him to teach her the art of real magic, then she might just be able to return home.

Is that what she wants, though? Aruendiel has a biting tongue, a shrouded past and no patience, so there's no way Nora could be falling for him . . . Is there?

Emily Croy Barker spent almost twenty years as a journalist. A graduate of Harvard University, she is currently the executive editor at The American Lawyer magazine, where she oversees international coverage. She lives in New Jersey. The Thinking Woman's Guide to Real Magic is her first novel.

'A marvellous plot, clever dialogue, and complex characters distinguish The Thinking Woman's Guide to Real Magic. With the intimacy of a classic fairy-tale and the rollicking elements of modern epic fantasy, Emily Croy Barker's delightful debut will sweep readers into another world. Fun, seductive, and utterly engrossing, this wonderful tale of magic and adventure is a perfect escape from humdrum reality' Deborah Harkness, bestselling author of A Discovery of Witches

Dreamwalker

J.D. Oswald

More epic than the Inheritance Cycle, more remarkable than Gormenghast, get ready for a new fantasy phenomenon for 2014

The dragons of Glwad are dying. Persecuted for over two millennia, they're a shrunken echo of the proud creatures they once were. And yet in new life springs hope: Benfro, son of Morgwm the Green, is the first male kitling in a thousand years, and he is marked for great things. Long ago, dragons wrought a terrible wrong to the land, and now is the time for redemption.

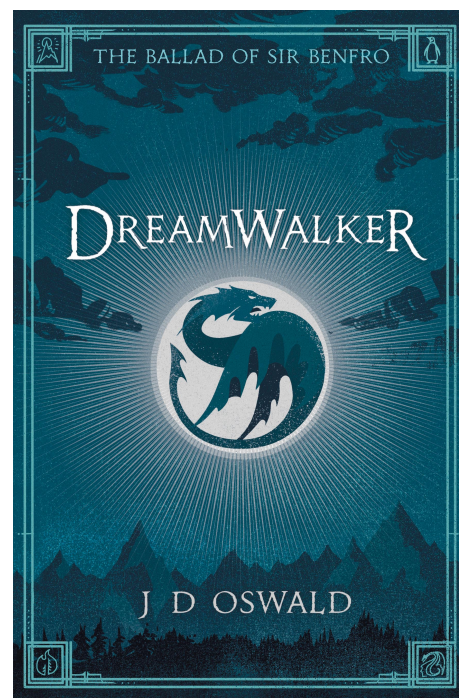

War is on the horizon in Glwad. The fragile truce between the Twin Kingdoms and the godless Llanwennogs to the north is crumbling, and man and dragon must play their part.

J. D. Oswald is the author of the epic fantasy series, The Ballad of Sir Benfro. Currently, Dreamwalker, The Rose Cord and The Golden Cage are all available as Penguin ebooks. He is also the author of the Detective Inspector McLean series of crime novels under the name James Oswald.

Fall From Grace

David Raker Novel #5

Tim Weaver

The stunning follow-up to his break-out novel, top-ten bestseller Never Coming Back

When homicide commander Leonard Franks retires from the Met, he and his wife Ellie trade in London for the wide open spaces of Dartmoor. Surrounded by farmland and miles from their nearest neighbours, their new life is idyllic - until, one day, Franks heads outside to get some firewood and never comes back.

Nine months on, with her husband still gone, Ellie hires investigator David Raker. Against a backdrop of suppressed secrets, of lost love and buried bones, he begins to unearth evidence of a horrific crime hidden in Franks's past - and it's one that could cost Raker everything.

Tim Weaver is the bestselling author of Chasing the Dead, The Dead Tracks, Vanished and Richard and Judy Book Club selection Never Coming Back, which was also nominated for a National Book Award. All his novels feature missing persons investigator David Raker. A former journalist and magazine editor, he lives near Bath with his wife and daughter. Gone for Good

David Bell

No secret is ever truly gone for good . . .

Elizabeth Hampton has not spoken to her mother in weeks when she gets the phone call. Her mother has been found dead under suspicious circumstances.

But who would want to kill a kind old woman who stayed at home to care for her son Ronnie's special needs? And why did her mother recently change her Will?

The police tell Elizabeth that this is not only a murder investigation - her brother Ronnie is the prime suspect.

Desperate to prove her brother's innocence, Elizabeth begins to unravel dark family secrets, double lives and the shocking truth behind her own identity.

David Bell is an assistant professor of English at Western Kentucky University. He received an MA in creative writing from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and a PhD in American Literature and creative writing from the University of Cincinnati. The Mysterious Affair at Castaway House

Stephanie Lam

An old house and a buried family secret that spans generations . . .

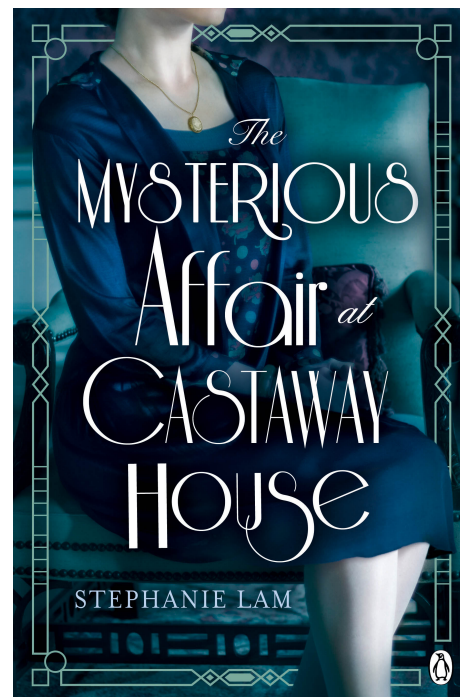

When Rosie Churchill moves into the beautiful but run-down Castaway House in the seaside town of Helmston in 1965, she uncovers a scandal that has been hidden for nearly half a century.

Robert Carver lived at Castaway House in its 1920s heyday, when it was the seaside home of a wealthy but damaged family caught up in a tragic case of mistaken identity, heartbreak and a suspicious disappearance.

Trying to bury her own difficult past, Rosie is looking for a fresh start. But the more she learns about Robert Carver, the further she is drawn into the mysterious history of the house. And the more their stories, old and new, entwine.

Stephanie Lam was born and raised in London. She is half English and half Chinese; her mother is from Sheffield and her father was raised on the island of Mauritius. As well as writing, she teaches English at Tinsley House Immigration Removal Centre, working with detained foreign nationals. She lives in Brighton. The Mysterious Affair at Castaway House is her first novel.

Total Recovery

Solving the Mystery of Chronic Pain and Depression

Donna Beech and Gary Kaplan

A radical rethink of how we get sick, why we stay sick and how we can recover

A radical rethink of how we get sick, why we stay sick and how we can recover.

Millions of us suffer from chronic pain. It can return at the slightest provocation and its cause is often a mystery to doctors. In Total Recovery, Dr Gary Kaplan argues that we've been thinking about disease all wrong.

Through cutting-edge research and dramatic patient stories, the book reveals how chronic physical and emotional pain are linked. Dr Kaplan's groundbreaking discovery that disease is an accumulation of traumas over a lifetime - every injury, infection and emotional blow - suggests that current treatments for chronic pain and depression are ineffective.

By focusing on long-term causes as well as symptoms, Dr Kaplan has found hope for those locked into a lifetime of pain and suffering. His unified theory has created a new pathway to total recovery.

Dr Gary Kaplan DO is certified in family medicine, pain medicine and is a pioneer of integrative medicine. He lectures at Georgetown University and is director of the Kaplan Centre for Integrative Medicine. Donna Beech is a New York Times bestselling and award-winning author.

A Long Way Home

Saroo Brierly

Against all the odds, a son is reunited with his mother. A powerful and inspirational true story of hope.

Saroo was born into a life of poverty in India's slums. Aged just 4 he began to beg with his older brother just to survive. They found work sweeping trains. One fateful night, Saroo got separated from his brother and fell asleep on a night train, only to wake up nearly 1500km away in Calcutta. Scared, frightened and illiterate five year old Saroo did not even know his surname, let alone what city he came from. This little lost boy was adopted by an Australian family, and grew up to learn English. His heartbroken mother searched in vain for her two sons.

As an adult, Saroo was plagued by unanswered questions. He became obsessed with finding clues to his heritage and tracking that fateful train journey. It seemed like a needle in a haystack, yet an extraordinary chain of events culminated in an emotional family reunion, when Saroo met the mother he hadn't seen for 25 years.

Saroo Brierley is an India-born Australian businessman. He grew up with an adopted family in Tasmania, Australia.

Pop Goes the Weasel

M.J. Arlidge

Pop Goes the Weasel

The body of a middle-aged man is discovered in Southampton's red light district - horrifically mutilated, with his heart removed.

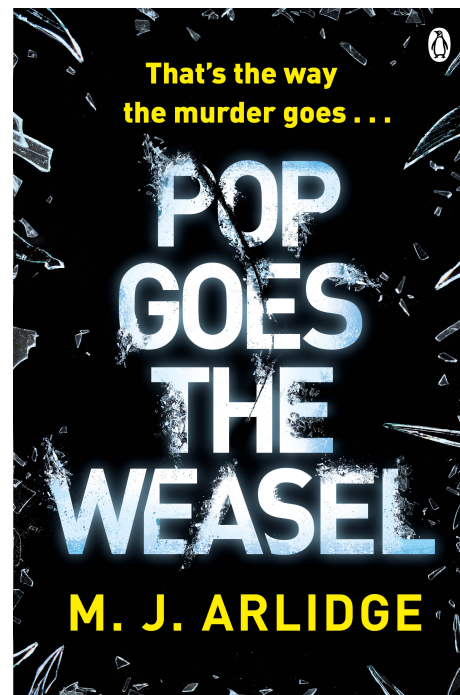

Hours later - and barely cold - the heart arrives with his wife and children by courier.

A pattern emerges when another male victim is found dead and eviscerated, his heart delivered soon afterwards.

The media call it Jack the Ripper in reverse; revenge against the men who lead sordid double lives visiting prostitutes. For Grace, only one thing is certain: there's a vicious serial-killer at large who must be halted at all costs . .

M. J. Arlidge has worked in television for the last fifteen years, specialising in high end drama production. In the last five years Arlidge has produced a number of prime-time crime serials for ITV, including Torn, The Little House and most recently Undeniable, broadcast in spring 2014. Currently writing for Silent Witness, Arlidge is also piloting original crime series for both UK and US networks. Debut thriller Eeny Meeny, which introduces Detective Inspector Helen Grace, has sold to publishers around the world.

Don't Look Back

Gregg Hurwitz

Great characters, great pace and tension you can chew in a book that makes Deliverance look like a walk in the woods

After the breakup of her marriage, Evie takes the holiday of a lifetime. A few weeks of hiking, rafting and jungle adventure at an eco-lodge in Mexico sound ideal. But what should have been the perfect pick-me-up soon turns into a nightmare.

Nothing is quite what it seems. There are secrets hidden that can't be allowed to leave their jungle hiding place. And which their keeper will kill to protect.

If she is ever to see her son again, Evie will be forced to find reserves of strength, courage and ingenuity she never dreamt existed. Or die trying.

Gregg Hurwitz is the internationally bestselling author of You're Next, Or She Dies, We Know and I See You. A graduate of Harvard and Oxford Universities, he lives with his family in California, where he writes screenplays, television and comics including Batman and Wolverine.

Crap CVs

Jenny Crompton

A hilarious compendium of crap CVs, excruciating interviews and cover letters from hell

Application for Employment

I refer to the recent death of the Technical Manager at your company and hereby apply for the replacement of the deceased manager.

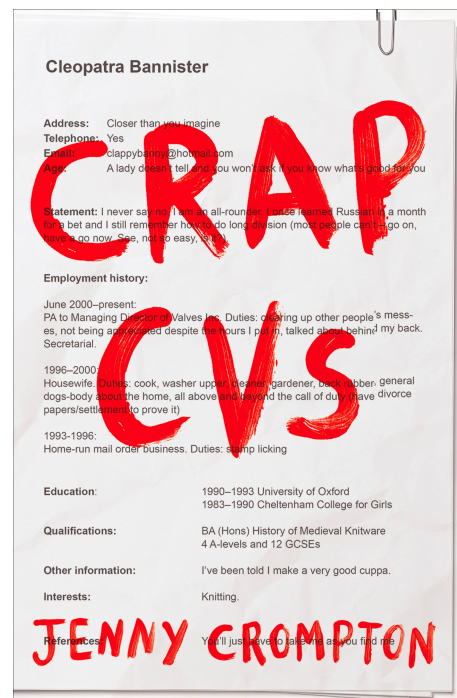

Each time I apply for a job, I get a reply that there is no vacancy but in this case I have caught you red-handed and you have no excuse because I even attended the funeral to be sure that he was truly dead and buried before applying.

Attached to my letter is a copy of my CV and his death certificate.

Crap CVs is a hilarious compilation of the worst job applications imaginable, including overly honest cover letters, embarrassing typos, mortifying personal revelations, awkward interview questions, misplaced self-confidence, self-aggrandising gibberish, blatant truth-twisting and, of course, outright lies.

Phantom Instinct

M.G. Gardiner

The brand new thriller from the Edgar Award-winning US writer, M.G. Gardiner

Harper Flynn nearly died when gunmen attacked the L.A. club where she worked. A year later, Harper tries to rebuild her life - but is failing.

Because not only is she convinced there was a third gunman who escaped, but she also believes that he is targeting the survivors.

The only person who will listen is Sherriff Deputy Aiden Garrison, who tried to save her life that night. But Harper's only ally has a secret of his own - one that makes him suspicious and highly volatile . . .

M.G. Gardiner was born in Oklahoma and raised in Santa Barbara, California. She graduated from Stanford University and Stanford Law School. She practiced law in Los Angeles and taught writing at the University of California Santa Barbara. She's a former collegiate cross-country runner and a three time Jeopardy! champion. She lives with her family near London.

'If you read Sue Grafton, Lee Child, Janet Evanovich, Michael Connelly or Nelson DeMille, you're going to think M.G. Gardiner is a gift from heaven', Stephen King

'Edgar Award-winner Gardiner steadily ratchets up the suspense in this taut stand-alone tale', Booklist

The Last Anniversary

Liane Moriarty

From the bestselling author of The Husband's Secret comes a compelling story with a mystery that is not as innocent as it seems

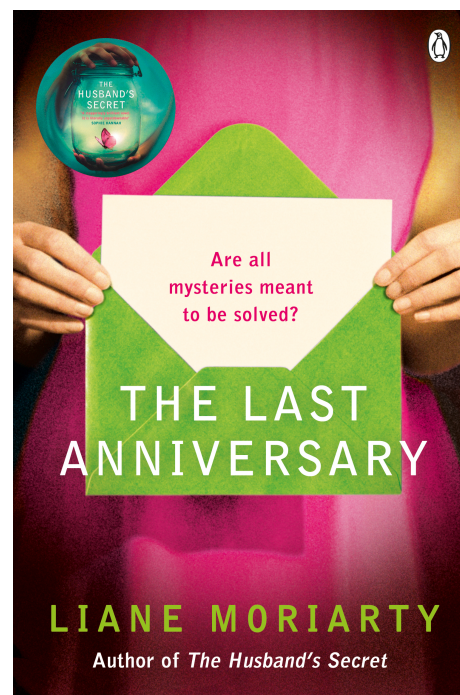

Seventy-three years have passed since sisters Rose and Connie Doughty found an abandoned baby in the only other house on their little island, Scribbly Gum. And since then the 'Munro Baby Mystery' has brought them fame and fortune. But now, with Connie dead and newcomer and outsider Sophie Honeywell inheriting her home, and everyone around them tirelessly trying to solve the mystery, Rose begins to wonder if they made the right decision all those years ago. How much longer they can cover up the truth behind the mystery that has sustained their community for four generations? And what other secrets might be revealed?

Liane Moriarty is the bestselling author of five novels, Three Wishes, The Last Anniversary, What Alice Forgot, The Hypnotist's Love Story, and most recently the global phenomenon, The Husband's Secret. She lives in Sydney with her husband and son.

The Lost Christmas Puppy

Linda Steliou

A heartwarming true story about a woman whose Christmas wish for a puppy was finally granted after 60 years of waiting

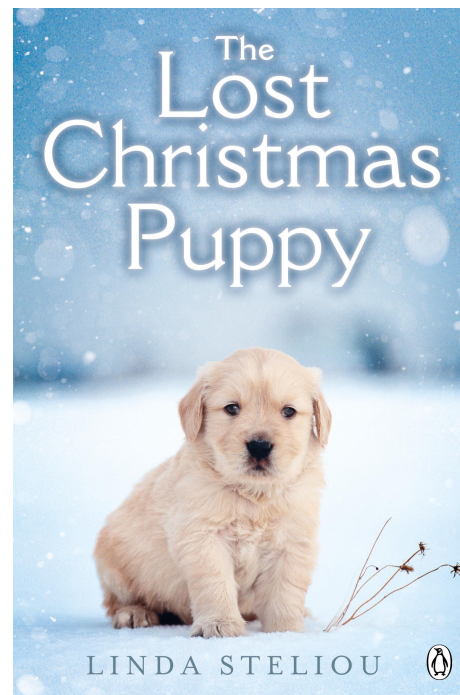

Little Linda was three years old when she told Father Christmas a secret. 'What I want more than anything is to have a puppy of my own to love'.

But with every Christmas that went by, no puppy appeared. Linda grew into a busy working mum and wife, and her dreams of a puppy were pushed to the back of her mind. It wasn't until a special visitor one dark and cold Christmas Eve, that she began to remember the wish she had made sixty years earlier. . .

Full of charming and touching stories, and in the wake of A Streetcat Named Bob and Christmas at the Ragdoll Orphanage, comes an unforgettable true story about childhood, love, and how an animal can change one's life.

Linda Steliou lives in Greece with her husband Stephen and several four-legged friends. This is her first book.

Hello from the Gillespies

Monica McInerney

This Christmas, enjoy the sparkling new novel from Monica McInerney

For 30 years, Angela Gillespie has sent an end-of-the-year letter to friends and family titled "Hello from the Gillespies." This Christmas, Angela surprises herself - she tells the truth.

Her husband is coping badly with retirement. Her adult twins have both had embarrassing career meltdowns and want to come home. Her youngest daughter is in debt and can't stop crying. And her ten-year-old son spends all his time talking to his imaginary friend.

Angela has had enough. But after a bump on the head leaves her with temporary amnesia, the family have to pull together to get back to the love that holds them together.

Australian-born Dublin-based Monica McInerney is the author of the best-selling novels At Home with the Templetons, Those Faraday Girls, Family Baggage, The Alphabet Sisters, Spin the Bottle, Upside Down Inside Out, A Taste for It and The House of Memories, published internationally and in translation.

For the past twenty years she and her Irish husband have been moving back and forth between Australia and Ireland. They currently live in Dublin.

Emily McKay

More terrifying than The Passage The Hunger Games The Farm The Lair

In a world where vampires rule and teenaged humans are quarantined as a food source, there's only one choice - resist or die.

But fighting Ticks comes at a terrible cost to twin sisters Mel and Lily and their best friend Carter. With Lily exposed to the Tick virus and lying in a coma, it's up to Mel and Carter to search for the cure - and quickly. For with every passing heartbeat, Mel is becoming more and more purely vampire.

Now their only choice is to split up in a race to save Lily - and to save humanity.

Emily McKay is the author of The Farm and The Lair, which are also published by Penguin. She loves to read, shop, and geek out about movies. When she's not writing, she reads online gossip and bakes luscious desserts. She pretends that her weekly yoga practice balances out both of those things. She lives in central Texas with her family and her crazy pets.

Death or Glory IV

Michael Asher, Michael Asher

More Death or Glory adventure as Tom Caine is captured by Nazis

Italy, 1943 - SAS Captain, Tom Caine, is being held captive by Nazis forces. Whilst imprisoned he befriends another member of the SAS - one who has heard a rumour.

The operative knows the location of an ancient codex. A codex he claims will lead them to the location of the original texts of Tacitus's Germania.

Caine is deployed by the Nazis to find the codex and retrieve the texts on a mission that will most certainly bring about his death, and refusal is not an option.

Caine has little choice but to begin his most deadly campaign yet.

Michael Asher has served in the Parachute Regiment and the SAS. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature, and has won the Ness Award of the Royal Geographical Society and the Mungo Park Medal of the Royal Scottish Geographical Society for Exploration.

'Breathtaking bravery, astonishing feats of endurance, raids and battles described with terrific immediacy and pace. Compelling and definitive . . . will surely not be bettered' Sunday Telegraph

Pittacus Lore

The heartstopping fourth instalment in the blockbuster Lorien Legacies series

I thought things would change when I found the others. We would stop running. We would fight the Mogadorians. And we would win.

But I was wrong. We're together, but we barely escaped from them with our lives. And now we're in hiding, planning our next move.

The six of us are powerful - but not strong enough to take on their entire army. We haven't discovered the full extent of our Legacies. We haven't learned to work together. Time is short, and there's only one thing we know for certain: We need to find Number Five before they do.

'Number Four is a hero for this generation', Michael Bay, director of Transformers
'A franchise set to eclipse Harry Potter and moody vampires. Pittacus Lore is about to become one of the hottest names on the planet.' Big Issue
'Relentlessly readable' The Times
'Tense, exciting, full of energy' Observer

The Boy That Never Was
Karen Perry

A beautiful, lyrical mystery, this is the psychological suspense novel everyone will talk about in 2014

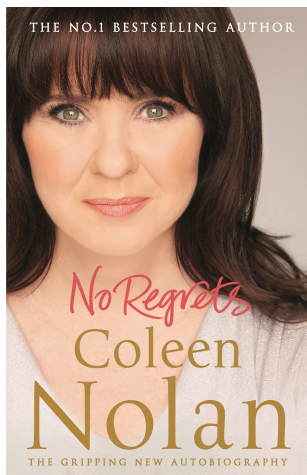

The course of Harry and Robin's married life was set when their three-year-old son, Dillon, disappeared. Five years on, their lives are approaching a fragile normality. That is until the day Harry catches sight of his dead son in the midst of a Dublin crowd...

Harry and Robin must embark on a journey that demands they reevaluate everything they believe to be true - the secrets each holds and the lies they have told - and one that will test their love for each other to the limit.

'Gripping from its dramatic opening chapter, this tense, unpredictable novel blends a thriller with an intimate family story to produce a most compulsive read', John Boyne, author of The Boy In the Striped Pyjamas

'A truly remarkable novel. The Boy That Never Was is a pitch-perfect balance of driving plot and honest, complex human emotion. Written in a captivating, lyrical style and brilliantly structured, the story grips your heart from the first pages and simply never lets go', Jeffery Deaver

No Regrets Coleen Nolan

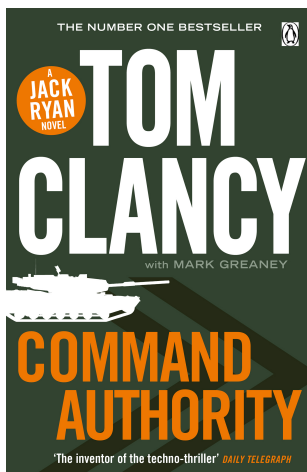

The gripping new memoir by one of the nation's favourite TV personalities

As one of the nation's favourite TV presenters, Coleen Nolan is used to tabloids claiming to have the inside story of her private life. In No Regrets Coleen reveals the truth of what happened during the last few rollercoaster years. In this candid memoir, Coleen writes with raw honesty about the death of her beloved sister Bernie, marriage troubles, career highs and lows, and struggles with her body image. Wonderfully warm and moving, and brilliantly funny and honest, No Regrets will take you from laughter to tears and back again as you share Coleen's very personal journey.

'Totally shocking, Coleen's back with a bang.' Daily Mirror

'Unputdownable, Coleen certainly lets loose!' Bella
