THE AMERICAN LITERATURES INITIATIVE

TRANSATLANTIC SPECTACLES OF RACE
The Tragic Mulatta and the Tragic Muse
Kimberly Snyder Manganelli

"An engaging, rich, and provocative work that re-directs 'mixed-race' studies back to its complex archival and historical roots, Manganelli's book challenges readers to consider the deeply imbricated, transnational production of 19th century racial and gender mythologies."
—Daphne Brooks, Princeton University
256 pages • 13 photographs • 978-0-8135-4988-0 • Paperback $24.95

THE INTERNATIONAL JEWISH LABOR BUND AFTER 1945
Toward a Global History
David Slucki

"The International Jewish Labor Bund after 1945 offers intriguing insights about how a movement so deeply rooted in the Yiddish-speaking working masses of Eastern Europe struggled to find a new role and fashion a new identity in the aftermath of the Holocaust."
—Israel Journal of Foreign Affairs
284 pages • 10 photographs • 978-0-8135-5168-5 • Cloth $45.95

THE WHITE NEGRESS
Literature, Minstrelsy, and the Black-Jewish Imaginary
Lori Harrison-Kahan

"Placing gender squarely at the intersection of black-Jewish cultural imaginings, The White Negress makes a stunning contribution to our understanding of whiteness, race relations, and ethnic literature."
—Joyce Antler, author of You Never Call! You Never Write: A History of the Jewish Mother
248 pages • 3 photographs • 978-0-8135-4783-1 • Paperback $24.95

THE NEW JEW IN FILM
Exploring Jewishness and Judaism in Contemporary Cinema
Nathan Abrams

"Abrams adds fresh perspectives on emerging global film depictions of Jews in an investigation of how old, fixed categories of stereotypes have been subverted since 1990. Abrams shows how cinema has become the vehicle for normalizing Jews, generally stereotyped and mocked but now framed in ordinary ways. Highly recommended."

GENTILE NEW YORK
The Images of Non-Jews among Jewish Immigrants
Gil Ribak

The very question of “what do Jews think about the goyim” has fascinated Jews and Gentiles, anti-Semites and philo-Semites alike. This critical look at the origins of Jewish liberalism in America provides a more complicated and nuanced picture of the Americanization process.

308 pages • 978-0-8135-5164-7 • Cloth • $45.95

A KOSHER CHRISTMAS
‘Tis the Season to be Jewish
Joshua Eli Plaut

“Hanukkah, a once-obscure Jewish festival that—conveniently falling in December—has been built up to become a response to the December dilemma”, the puzzle posed for non-Christians by Christmas. The dilemma is no more, suggests Rabbi Plaut. December now features traditions that are both distinctly American and inventively Jewish.”

RETURN TO CENTRO HISTÓRICO
A Mexican Jew Looks for His Roots
Ilan Stavans

“[This] is a thought-provoking story of how a boy who wanted to be a magician turned instead into one of our very best writers. Ilan Stavans conjures up his life with candor and an ample heart for family and community.”

—Virgil Suarez, author of 90 Miles: Selected and New Poems

THE CHOOSING A Rabbi’s Journey from Silent Nights to High Holy Days
Andrea Myers

“One of many levels, The Choosing was a fascinating read. The personal stories, interwoven with the search for religious conversion, make the balance of the piece hard to put down. Rabbi Myers’ double journey dovetails beautifully to a very poignant, succinct final statement for the reader to reach.”

—Edge Publications

POPULAR TRAUMA CULTURE
Selling the Pain of Others in the Mass Media
Anne Rothe

Rothe argues that American Holocaust discourse has a particular plot structure—characterized by a melodramatic conflict between good and evil and embodied in the core characters of victim/survivor and perpetrator—and that it provides the paradigm for representing personal experiences of pain and suffering in the mass media.
